From Dani at WC...

I do know there is a lady that is trying to start a residential treatment facility in CDA. She called me the other day with some questions & I let her know you guys would be a good source of information as well regarding PHP. The Magellan website will let you look up different providers that accept Magellan. I sometimes use that, but it's not very user friendly in my opinion. SHIP is a great option for SSL in Boise, and they are one of 2 in Boise that take Magellan funding. Moonlight will also accept it for the SSL, but clients have to attend IOP with them as well to reside in their homes. Guardian House is another one I've had clients apply to in the Boise area; however, they recently stopped accepting Magellan. I refer a lot of people to Trivium for outpatient treatment in the Boise/ Caldwell area if they aren't interested in Brickhouse especially since they have case management. There is also Caldwell Recovery Center in Caldwell. I'm sure you know of RHS and Padron in the Idaho Falls area. Freedom Recovery is in Pocatello but currently only accepting IOP clients that have also completed residential with them. There's nowhere in the Idaho Falls or CDA area that accepts Magellan for SSL that I am aware of at this time. As far as IOP in the CDA area I have referred a lot of people to Kootenai Health and Heritage Health if they aren't interested in Brickhouse. I also just found out a place call Bigfoot Counseling up there also offers IOP. Lewiston/Orofino area is either Change Point or Riverside I don't know of any other options. Moscow has Weeks and Vietri for IOP, but again that's the only option I know of. Bonners Ferry area there is Rawlins Counseling.

I know currently we are the only SSL that accepts Magellan in the Twin Falls area. There is Realcovery in Twin that is self-pay or they take IDOC funding I believe. There is also Mini-Cassia Transitional Living in the Burley area that takes women but again they are self-pay and may take IDOC funding. NOVA Residence takes IDOC funding for men on probation & parole in Twin Falls. There's also always Oxford House in the Lewiston area and Boise but their process is kind of a pain in the butt at times.
